Principles For Christians In This Up Coming Election

by Dr. John W. Brent Stancil

Several simple truths to consider before voting this Fall...

1. The Biblical issue of life is not up for negotiation. God gives life and abortion is taking life, end of story.
2. The Biblical institution of marriage is not up for negotiation! Male and female God created them and then gave them the ability to reproduce. Any relationship outside of a man and woman in marriage is wrong.
3. The Biblical roles of the home, the government, and the church are settled. The home is the primary institution, and the government is not to intrude. It does not take a state to raise a child, it takes parents. The church is God's institution spiritually for this age and is not to be dictated to by the government. The government is to protect the people, while the home and the church are to provide for their other needs.
4. Fiscal conservatism is a Bible principle. Do not spend more than you make. Save your money. Do not go into debt. God teaches the believer these principle in both the Old and New Testament.
5. Israel is to be blessed by other nations. God is not done with Israel. At the conclusion of the church age, Israel will again be front and center of God's attention and affection. Our relationship with Israel is a critical issue for God's blessing. (Apart from the Biblical admonition to bless Israel it is wise to be an ally to your ally regardless. Israel is the only real ally we have in that region of the world.)
6. Less government, not more government, less tax, not more, and less regulation, not more, are always the better way. Even in the Old Testament God did not intend Israel to ever have a king, but granted her wish for a king, while warning that a king would "tax" them to death. Taking their materials, their children, and their future. That is exactly what happened to Israel and what has happened to us.
7. Government is not God. We are to look to God for our needs, not to man. Too many have turned to social or government programs for their needs, and not to the Lord. We have created a paradigm of dependence on government, and not God.
